MISSION

Anna intends to impact the lives of readers through inspiring events, encouragement, and empathy. They will receive practical examples to apply, practices of faith to incorporate, as well as a relatable glimpse into post-traumatic experiences. Additionally, she aims to donate all proceeds to caregiver, veteran, and military organizations that aid individuals in recovery and readjustment post-combat.

EXCERPT

“Eventually, the hour was upon us for my other half to regain consciousness and provide us insight into this unfamiliar version of the man my family and I once knew.”

Anna's account of her marriage and life with Jed is extraordinary. VALLEY OF THE SHADOW is a genuine and vulnerable glimpse into their lives; she takes readers to the depths of their virtuous relationship together and with Christ. Her heartfelt story shares the raw truths about their incredible bond and the supernatural events along their adventure together. Morgan uses their story to open the hearts and eyes of readers to the One true Lord. She accepts even the deepest loss in their lives as part of the journey the Lord has called them on, and uses this testimony to witness to others. VALLEY OF THE SHADOW reads like fiction within the beauty of her words, but it's honesty and humility are clearly autobiographical. I couldn't put it down, the Morgan's story is nothing short of awe-inspiring!

ABOUT ANNA

Anna Morgan is a homemaker, military veteran caregiver, and mother. She was raised in Colorado, where Anna and her husband met. After graduating in 2010, she married Jedidiah Daniel, just weeks before he departed for war. Following his second overseas military deployment and resulting critical injuries, Anna became his full-time caretaker.

She continues to provide assistance now, a decade later under compensation through the VA. Morgan's passions lie in veteran and caretaker causes, though her greatest calling remains proclaiming the couple's testimony regarding the miraculous, providential story God determined them to undergo.
